

OFFSETTING CARBON EMISSIONS

We are all aware of global warming. We can do our best to be energy efficient and limit our energy usage but to offset carbon generation and recapture the carbon and generate oxygen IcFEM plants trees. A large tree consumes approximately 1 tonne of carbon dioxide when it grows to maturity.

Sources of carbon dioxide:

- Vehicles -
A medium car produces about 3.5 tonnes of CO₂ per year = 4 trees
- Household activities –
A 3 bedroom home produces about 5.5 tonnes of CO₂ a year = 6 trees
- Businesses – all human activity produces carbon dioxide
- Flights –
 - 1 short haul flight generates about 0.5 tonne of CO₂
 - Flying from London to Nairobi return (8,500 miles / 13,680 km) generates 1.5 tonnes of CO₂ per person = 2 trees

IcFEM plants trees:

- £5 plants 1 large tree
- £4 plants 5 fruit tree saplings (avocado, mango, paw paw) – Fruit growing can rescue families from poverty. Apart from being given the fruit trees families are taught how to graft new saplings from original rootstock and nurture the young trees. Varieties are diversified and the produce can fetch a good price at the market.
